FALL 2017 FINAL CURRICULUM REPORT

November 30, 2017

OVERVIEW

The body of this report consists of two major sections: Course Proposals, reviewed fall 2017, and Other Curricular Matters.

Course proposals approved by the University of Oregon Committee on Courses (UOCC) and the University Senate are effective fall term 2018, unless a specific term is requested by an academic department and stated otherwise in this report.

All changes to course catalog listings, except for minor revisions of course descriptions, are intended to be included in the curriculum report, and are routed through the UOCC to the senate. The UOCC will consider new proposals during fall term and will submit a quarterly report to the University Senate in December. Information and suggestions for preparing proposals, including policies and definitions governing group and multicultural general-education requirements, are provided under Other Curricular Matters.

Courses Not Taught Report: Courses not taught within the past three years will be indicated for dropping from the curriculum in the spring curriculum report.

COURSE PROPOSALS

Unless indicated otherwise, courses may be taken either pass/no pass or for letter grades. Pass/no pass only or graded only indicates that all students must take the course as specified in the bold print. Separate grading options for majors are bracketed in this report and appear in UO class schedule notes; they are not printed in the UO Catalog. R after course credits means that the course number may be repeated for credit. Sequence after the description means the courses must be taken in numerical order.

None.

DROPPED COURSES

The University Senate agreed in 1998 that the report of the Committee on Courses should include those permanently numbered courses that are being dropped because (1) they have not been taught for three or more years, and (2) the department can provide no reasonable explanation why they have not been taught or whether they will be in the future. The faculty requires that general-education-satisfying courses be offered each year. Other courses should be offered at least every other year to avoid misrepresentation of course offerings to prospective students, and to ensure that required courses are readily available to current students.

Courses may be reinstated within a period of three years, conditional upon the following: (1) there has been no change made to the course, (2) the department provides the term the course will be taught, (3) the department provides the name of the faculty member who will be responsible for teaching, and (4) the department provides a course syllabus with information regarding undergraduate graduate differential for demonstrating mastery if the course is numbered 4XX/5XX.

Dropped courses will be listed in the spring curriculum report.

OTHER CURRICULAR MATTERS

Updated UOCC Procedures for Curricular Changes passed by Undergraduate Council and UOCC (fall 2017): <https://blogs.uoregon.edu/uocc/files/2016/10/Procedures-for-Curricular-Changes-Fall-2017-FINAL-1mvm804.pdf>

The revisions include the section on administrative changes. It now reads as follows:

Minor Changes Not Requiring Full Review

The following minor course changes may be made without full review by the UOCC:

- Minor revisions to a course description
- Minor grading option changes
- Adding or removing a generic course

Submit these requests directly to the UO curriculum coordinator, the UO Catalog editor in the Office of University Communications, and the curriculum coordinator in the Office of the Registrar. These requests must include a syllabus and completion of the Student Engagement Inventory and the Learning Outcomes if not already present in CourseLeaf. Extensive (or possibly problematic) changes may require full review by the UOCC for consideration.

For an existing nongeneric course, any change to information contained in the university catalog that is in bold type requires approval from the UOCC.

The multilisting request has also been clarified to update it to the CourseLeaf version.

College of Arts and Sciences

- The dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, with endorsement by the associate vice provost for academic excellence and the vice provost and dean for undergraduate studies, has approved minor changes to the degree requirements for the bachelor of arts and bachelor of science in political science. PS 406 Internship will be replaced with PS 404 Internship in the requirements of the major. In addition, credits for the internship course will change from 4 to 2 credits. This changes the total credits students can earn for internships from 10 to 8. Effective fall 2017.
- The dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, with endorsement by the associate vice provost for academic excellence and the vice provost and dean for undergraduate studies, has approved minor changes to the degree requirements for the minor in philosophy. At present, the minor requires all three history courses—HIST 310, 311, and 312. The change requires only two of the three history courses for the minor (while keeping the requirement for 16 upper-division credits). Effective fall 2018.
- The dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, with endorsement by the associate vice provost for academic excellence and the vice provost and dean for undergraduate studies, has approved minor changes to the degree requirements for the bachelor of arts and bachelor of science in religious studies. Bachelor's degrees will now include REL 411 Making Sense of Religion as a required course, with a shift in distribution in electives, and 24 upper-division credits rather than 28. Effective fall 2018.

School of Journalism and Communication

- The dean of the School of Journalism and Communication, with approval by the Graduate School and the Graduate Council, has approved changes to the curriculum for the master of arts and master of science degrees in advertising and brand responsibility. The curriculum is being updated to reflect current trends in the field. The changes do not affect the overall credits required. Effective fall 2018.

College of Education

- The dean of the College of Education, with endorsement by the associate vice provost for academic excellence and the vice provost and dean for undergraduate studies, has approved changes to the minor in special education and the special education certificate. SPED 412 Foundations of Disability II will no longer be required for the minor or the certificate, and instead will be an optional course. The change does not affect the overall required credits for either credential. Effective fall 2017.

Robert Donald Clark Honors College

- The dean of the Clark Honors College, with endorsement by the associate vice provost for academic excellence and approval by the UOCC, has approved changes to course categories and titles for HC courses. The proposed changes are as follows (effective fall 2017):
 - The title (that currently reads “Literature and History Requirements”) should now read “Lower-Division Arts and Letters and Social Science Requirements”
 - The “Honors College Literature” section should now be labeled “Honors College Arts and Letters (Lower Division)”
 - The “Honors College History” section should now be labeled “Honors College Social Science (Lower Division)”
 - The “Honors College Literature or History Research” section should now be labeled as “Honors College Arts and Letters or Social Science Research”
 - The title that shows up at the end of each course listing should read “HC Arts and Letters (Lower Division)” and “HC Social Science (Lower Division).”

Academic Policies

- Upon recommendation of the Undergraduate Council, the Senate approved US16/17-22, Proposal to Eliminate the “Y” Grade. Effective fall 2017. Proposal reads as follows:

“The Undergraduate Council proposes to eliminate the ‘Y’ grade as an option in the University of Oregon grading system. Instead, a grade of ‘F’ will be recorded when a student registers and either never attends or participates, or attends and participates in part of the course but does not complete the course requirements.”

See <https://senate.uoregon.edu/entry/?Motions=US16/17-22> for further guidance.

- Upon recommendation of the Undergraduate Council, the Senate approved US16/17-20, Major Declaration Policy (<http://senate.uoregon.edu/entry/?Motions=US16/17-20>.)
Effective fall 2017. Policy reads as follows:

First-time, full-time freshmen

1. Undergraduates who matriculated into the UO as first-time, full-time freshman students should declare a major by the end of the fourth week of their sixth term of enrollment (typically spring term in their second year at the UO).
2. Students who have not declared a major by the end of the fourth week of their sixth term of enrollment will need to see an advisor and receive a personal identification number (PIN) before they can register for the next term's classes. Advisors can either assist students in choosing a major or grant an exception and help students develop a plan to declare a major.

Transfer Students

1. Transfer students should declare a major by the end of the fourth week of their third term of enrollment at the UO.
2. Transfer students who have not declared a major by the end of the fourth week of the third term of enrollment at the UO will need to see an advisor and receive a PIN before they can register for the next term's classes. Advisors can either assist students in choosing a major or grant an exception and help students develop a plan to declare a major.

Implementation. The university registrar will set up the tracking and PIN system once the policy is approved. Advising email campaigns will be developed to reach out to students each term who are approaching the criteria, reminding them to declare a major or see an advisor.
