

David Cosottile
Lecturer
Department of Special Education and Clinical Sciences

University Senate seat

I am a career-track lecturer and core faculty member of the online Applied Behavior Analysis program in the Department of Special Education and Clinical Sciences. I believe that it is critical that the senate represents the broad range of faculty roles and responsibilities at the University of Oregon. Due to the remote nature of my position and my role in the online ABA program, I believe that I can provide a voice for our online/remote faculty members as well as our growing online student body.
