

Jiabin Wu, Economics

University Senate seat

Dear esteemed colleagues and members of the University Senate,

My name is Jiabin Wu, an associate professor from the department of economics. I am pleased to announce my candidacy for the position in the University Senate.

I have served on various committees at the department level and participated in several university service activities. I have also taught a variety of courses and supervised student researches at both the undergraduate and graduate level, which has allowed me to engage with students intensively. I am confident that I have the experience and expertise needed to make valuable contributions to this esteemed body.

If elected, I will work tirelessly to promote the academic excellence of our institution and to ensure that the interests of the faculty and students are adequately represented in all decisions.

Thank you for considering my candidacy, and I look forward to the opportunity to serve the University Senate.
