

Merle Weiner, School of Law

Faculty Advisory Council seat

FAC members help the administration consider its response to critical issues on campus, including by asking questions and raising concerns. I have previously served on this committee during the terms of two different presidents and I tried to be both frank and constructive. Now that the UO has a new president, I hope to serve on this committee again.